

2018 SWDSI Outstanding Educator

Dr. Carl Rebman

Dr. Rebman is a Professor of Information Systems at the University of San Diego and teaches courses in management information systems, systems analysis/design and programming, website design, programming and management, data communication and network security, project management, database management, marketing and business intelligence/data analytics.

Dr. Rebman has published more than 78 research papers in the areas of speech recognition, human-computer interaction, electronic meeting support systems, decision support systems, neural networks, information/computing technologies (ICT), technostress, security, and distance learning/online education.

Dr. Rebman was recently appointed as an Associate Editor for the Journal of Computer Information Systems. Rebman also serves on the editorial boards of International Journal of Information Systems and Supply Chain Management, International Journal of Innovation and Learning, and is a reviewer for several other journals such as Communications of the ACM, European Journal of Information Systems. Most recently, Dr. Rebman served on the Scientific Committee for the American University in the Emirates (AUE) 1st International Research Conference.

For over 20 years, Dr. Rebman has been a member of Southwest Decision Sciences Institute (SWDSI), Decision Sciences Institute (DSI) and Association of Information Systems (AIS), and the International Association of Computer Information Systems (IACIS). Dr. Rebman has held leadership roles in Southwest Decision Sciences Institute serving as Track Chair, Proceedings Publication Coordinator, Webmaster, Secretary, Program Chair, and President. Dr. Rebman serves the practitioner community as an Academic Advisory Council Member of the Microsoft Dynamics Academic Alliance (MSDYNAA) and the San Diego IT Director's Group (SDITG).